WINTER MOTORING.

Cold weather, to the man who drives his car the year round, is usually associated with motoring difficulty. Frozen radiators, balky motors, poor visibility and slippery highways are among the commonest winter hobgoblins that frighten many motorists into leaving the gas buggy in the garage most of the time from November to March. Yet all of these evils are preventable. Car owners who live up to a few simple rules find cold weather motoring as free from worry as the summer trip to the seashore or mountains. Here are a few "tips" that may prove helpful.

On cold mornings, or whenever starting your motor in very cold weather, let the engine run idle for a few minutes before driving. This will give it a chance to warm up gradually, and will lessen the likelihood of stalling on the road. Don't "race" the motor to warm it up.

Use the "choke" as little as possible. A flooded carburetor means delay in starting and may result in throwing out the delicate adjustment of the carburetor valve.

A little glycerine rubbed on the windshield will prevent snow or rain from freezing on the glass and obstructing vision. Many motorists who use radiator glycerine anti-freeze carry a small bottle of it in the pocket of the car for just this purpose.

Tire chains are indispensable when driving on slippery roads. While chains on the rear wheels may be enough to prevent skidding in some cases, it is best to have all four wheels equipped, especially when the roads are icy.

Have your anti-freeze solution tested at regular intervals. Volatile liquids will boil away or evaporate, leaving the cooling system unprotected when protection is most needed. If you use radiator glycerine anti-freeze, you don't need to worry about evaporation, since glycerine won't boil or evaporate even when the motor is heated. A little water should be added from time to time to replace water evaporation.

MAKING THE NATION SMALLER.

Seven transcontinental highways, as part of a road system penetrating every section of the country, would be provided for in a bill which, according to announcement, is to be introduced at the next session of Congress.

Whether or not this project ever becomes a reality, it is indicative of the steadily increasing importance of highways in our development as a nation. State and state and city and city are bound together by smooth, shining pavements. They are necessities of modern life, an integral part of business and social relations.

The time is near when practically every community, no matter how small or isolated, will have contact with the outside world through the medium of a paved road. To the farmer, as well as the city-dweller, highways are basic commodities which pay for themselves many times over. Good roads have made the United States smaller.

The American farm worker produces from two to five times as much as similar workers in the important European countries. The higher production in this country may be largely attributed to the use of machinery.

Running straight west out of San Antonio, through Castroville, Hondo, D'Hanis, Sabinal, Uvalde, Del Rio, Sanderson, Marathon, Alpine, Marfa and Van Horn, to El Paso, is U. S. Highway No. 90, sometimes called "The Border Way." The above pictures at once show the variety in the 600 miles between San Antonio and El Paso over the Border Way No. 90. The highway is considered one of the best in the South. The surface is all-weather. The towns along the route are progressive and modern. The people are likeable and hospitable.

Rio is president, and a good one at that. Numbered among the many who made the El Paso trip were many distinguished citizens and city, county and State officials. The above pictures were among the many brought back to San Antonio. They were taken at various spots en route. Crossing the Pecos river near Highway 90 is the third highest bridge in the world, 321 feet from rails to water (top.) Center right is scene on the highway. Air-cooled Franklin like one pictured at left adds to pleasure of journey. Second from bottom show L. F. Birdsong of Birdsong & Potchornick, and Franklin car in front of Judge Roy Bean's famous headquarters at Langtry. Bottom shows William Furlong in Franklin car on Border highway. This cut was once used for railroad tracks. Map shows 600-mile route of U. S. Highway No. 90 from San Antonio to El Paso. —Courtesy San Antonio Daily Light.

QUIRI NOTES.

"He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved." Mark 16: 16.

Sunday school and Bible class Sunday morning at 9:30. Numbers for the Christmas program will be assigned to boys and girls who desire to have numbers on the program.

Divine service in the English tongue in Bethlehem Lutheran church Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Please bring your English hymnbooks to this service. All are cordially welcome.

At 2 o'clock p. m. Sunday divine service will be held in St. John's Lutheran church of New Fountain. All are cordially invited.

Thanksgiving day was a great day for the Quiri community. At 10 o'clock a. m. a Thanksgiving Day service was held in the Lutheran church, which was beautifully decorated with fruits from the neighboring fields and gardens. At 2 p. m. a fine bazaar under the auspices of the Ladies Aid society, was opened and a number of beautiful and useful articles of all sorts and for all purposes were auctioned off. From 4 o'clock on till well into the night hot coffee and finely barbecued meat-lunches were served by the ladies to the hungry. Promptly at 7 p. m. a splendid program of literary, musical and oratorical numbers was rendered. Every number of the program was rendered excellently and greatly enjoyed by the great audience present. The addresses by Rev. E. W. Dechert and County Superintendent of Schools were both especially timely, very interesting and instructive, and what is just as good, they were listened to with marked attention from beginning to the end. After the program the many neighbors and friends present milled about yet in social intercourse for several hours, enjoying, in the warmth of the evening, the opportunity afforded them to meet each other and exchange old and new ideas.

TEXAS FARMER TRIES DAIRYING.

By John W. Wilkinson, Agricultural Publicity Agent, Mo. Pac. Lines, St. Louis, Mo.

"Dairying," says Billy Held of Millet, Texas, "is one of the most profitable side lines on the farm that I have ever tried. The only wonder about it is that I never gave the question any thought until a little over two years ago, when I started with a small herd of Jerseys.

"I have had them on the farm now for two years and 18 head of these Jerseys clear me about $150 or more a month.

"They give me very little trouble. In fact myself and my hired hand milk the cows before we go to work in the morning and it only requires a little extra time in the evening to milk them when we come in from the day's work. Trucks of the milk route pick up the cans of milk and take it to San Antonio. That relieves me of the worry of peddling the milk to and Mrs. Chas. Reicherzer, of La Coste Monday evening, November 25, 1929. His mortal remains were brought to Castroville Tuesday and laid to rest in the Lutheran Cemetery, Rev. Walter Kralik officiated. Deceased was born at Ulmitz, Canton Friburg, Switzerland, January 28, 1842, and came to this country with his parents in 1852. He was a veteran of the Civil War. During the year 1868 he was happily married to Miss Catherine Keller and they made their home at Sauz. Their union was blessed with 10 children, five sons and five daughters. His wife preceded him in death in the year 1911; whereupon he made his home with his children. Uncle Jacob was a dutiful husband, a loving father, a law abiding citizen and a kind and accommodating neighbor. Besides those mentioned, he is survived by 43 grand and 34 great grandchildren and a large number of other near and relatives to mourn his demise. One son, Ed. L. Etter, preceded his father in death in May 1928.

A large cortege of mourning relatives and friends escorted the mortal remains to its last resting place. We join this entire community in sympathy with the bereaved and grief stricken ones.

May he rest in peace.

MRS. ED. SITTRE.

Died at her home at Rio Medina following a serious illness, Friday morning, November 29, 1929, and was laid to rest at San Louis Cemetery on Saturday morning. Reverend Father Lrenzen performed the last sad rites. Mrs. Ed. Sittre leaves her grief-stricken and bereaved husband and several children and grandchildren by a former marriage and a large number of other near and dear relatives to mourn her untimely demise. We join this entire community in sympathy with the bereaved and grief-stricken ones. A large concourse of mourning relatives and friends followed her mortal remains to its last resting place. May she rest in peace.

consumers."

Mr. Held has 25 registered Jersey cows and 18 of them were producing about 50 gallons of milk a day, when the writer and Frank P. Wittman, Agricultural Agent of the Missouri Pacific Lines for the San Antonio district, recently visited Mr. Held on his 500-acre farm one mile west of Millet, Texas.

Mr. Held has 250 acres of the farm in pasture and the remainder is planted to mow crops. About 75 acres were planted in Hogán, ten acres in cane for a hay crop, a few acres in corn and the remainder in cotton. He is one of the most successful farmers in the Missouri Pacific territory south of San Antonio.

CITRUS SHOW AT PEARSALL.

PEARSALL, Tex., Dec. 2.—The 4th annual Pearsall Parcel Post Citrus Show will be held here December 10, 11 and 12. The display will be placed in the show rooms of the Tyner Auto Co., local Ford dealer, where it can be viewed to best advantage. There will be no charges for admission.

Citrus fruits from the Lower Rio Grande Valley, from the Gulf Coast section and from all parts of the Winter Garden will be entered in the competition. A large number of towns have heretofore displayed their quality fruits at the show, including: Harlingen, Weslaco, Mission, San Benito, Mercedes, San Juan, LaFeria, Houston, Falfurrias, Alice, Alvin, Nixon, Big Wells, Lytle Encinal, Dilley, Stockdale, Laredo, Crystal City, Devine, San Antonio, Atlee, Cotulla, Pleasanton, Frio Town, Valley Wells and Pearsall.

J. F. Rosborough, Horticulturist, Extension Service, A. & M. College of Texas, assisted by Frank P. Wittmann, Horticulturist of the A. R. T. C. and the Missouri Pacific Lines, will judge the exhibit. Fruits may be entered from any parts of the United States, premiums being offered on all commercial varieties of citrus. The first prize is $2.00; 2nd prize, $1.00; 3rd, 4th and 5th prizes, ribbons. An entry will consist of three oranges, or three grape fruit, or three lemons, 5 limes, 5 "other kinds of citrus".

All entries should be sent to arrive here not later than 1 p. m. December 9. And exhibits are solicited from every section of the citrus growing belts of America. Fruits will be returned to the owner, if so requested when and if accompanied by carrying charges.

The show is staged under the auspices of the Pearsall Chamber of Commerce, local business and professional men of the town financing the event.

Good storage facilities throughout the fall and winter are necessary to insure sound firm seed potatoes at planting time. The main thing is to keep the storage temperature low enough to retard germination. Seed tubers that are firm, with the first sprouts just showing, will start quickly when planted and make a vigorous growth under favorable conditions following planting.

IN LOVING REMEMBRANCE OF LOIS MARIE TSCHIRHART.

Dear Lois Marie, thou hast left us,
Yes, left us forever more,
But we will find her with the angels,
On the bright and golden shore.

Oh, that dear one! How we loved her,
Oh! How hard to give her up;
But an angel came down for her,
And removed her from the flock.

Lonely the house and sad the hours,
Since Lois Marie has gone;
But a brighter home than ours
Is now little Lois Marie's home.

Last night, happy and smiling;
Now to see her no more,
For she has passed over the river
Rests on the distant shore.

She always seemed to be cheerful,
Always a pleasant smile;
In Heaven I know I'll meet her,
After a little while.

Every one seems to miss her;
Everyone to be sad.
Vacant is her little chair,
Empty is her little bed.

I wonder when my life is ended,
If friends will feel the same;
As they do towards Lois Marie,
And never forget her again.

A Cousin,
L. M. S.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

By W. W. Warnstaff, Phelps City, Mo.

* A farmer's sign on a high fence,
* Announcing hatching eggs for fifty cents.
* A stranger passing in his touring car
* Stops to ask the breed they are
* The farmer slowly shook his head
* "I'll call my wife," he finally said.

* The farmer's wife came through the weeds,
* Informed the stranger, "A mixture of breeds."
* He turned and at the farmer glanced,
* "Your birds," he said, "are not advanced;
* You surely do not mean to say
* The kind you have will ever pay."

* The farmer looked, but not surprised,
* "You want my neighbor, he advertised
* He has chickens all one breed,
* Claims they don't eat half the feed,
* Their eggs they sell the year around
* For top notch prices in all the towns."

* Moral: Pure-bred chickens take the prize,
* And it also pays to advertise.

JUSTICE THE ONLY FARM RELIEF.

We would not pose either as a pessimist or a prophet—and least of all as a prophet of evil omen.

We like to hope for the best in whatever is, for hope is the best bulwark against despair!

But in defiance of whatever carp-ing critics may invent, we here and now sound a warning against the methods employed by the Federal Farm Board to bring relief to the American farmer.

Aside from the well-founded doubt that American farmers can stand any more credit—the extension of which is all the Board has so far vouchsafed in the manner of relief—and meet successfully the inevitable pay-day, the method of dealing with the farmer is open to serious question as to both its wisdom and its justice.

From the day when those "battered farmers stood on the village green at Concord and fired their heard 'round the world" to this day, the strength and grandeur of America has been the individualism of the American farmer.

As that individualism decays and the American farmer degenerates to a peasantized class, without individual initiative or hope above the common mass, so will decay America's grandeur and her safety depend. But the Farm Board eschews dealing with the individual farmer.

It deals only with organized bodies of farmers.

Unless the whole plan blows up in failure and the taxpayers are left to hold the bag, this will lead inevitably to the organization of rival groups of farmers contending among themselves for supremacy and each owing the favor of the Farm Board to strife and favoritism rampant with disaster possible to all too soon to contemplate.

Should the system survive such catyculasm and nature's law of the survival of the strongest assert itself, the future will see an organization of master minds built up in handling the products of the farmer's toil—so strong that the farmers inside will be its slaves, humbly doing its bidding, while the farmer outside will be a pariah on the scene with no spot whereon to rest his weary bones.

Farm relief does not lie along the path selected by the Farm Board. Its need born of injustice to the farmer, relief can come only of a storing belated justice to him.

Give him an equal chance in the liberty and the pursuit of happiness such as is his inherent right to share with every other man, and watch him rise in strength and majesty to the grandeur to which the importance of his calling entitles him.

Any promise short of that is holding dead sea fruit to his lips.

SUMMER WOLLENS REQUIRE PROTECTION FROM MOTHS.

There is a prevailing impression that clothes moths are active only the spring and summer and that the fall and winter it is not necessary to take precautions in storing summer clothing. The Bureau of Entomology of the United States Department of Agriculture says, however, that while moths may be more prevalent and noticeable as warm weather approaches, they are active throughout the year in apartments or places where a steady temperature of 70° F. or more is maintained.

Clothing and blankets in constant use are not often attacked. A warm summer suit left hanging at the back of a closet, however, will exactly meet a parent moth's idea of a good place to lay her eggs. The following year the suit would likely be riddled with holes; and some of the larvae might crawl off and eat your garments, such as the evening dress that is worn occasionally, or any else that is not frequently changed and shaken.

At the end of their season of garment likely to be attacked should be thoroughly cleaned at least brushed, beaten and sunned, or to a dry cleaner. Then they should be neatly folded and put away once in a tight red-cedar chest or other tight container such as a box which can be sealed. An additional protection in any container is the cedar chest, is to put naphthalene flakes or moth balls in the box with the clothing. Cedar boxes may be used if the clothing is properly prepared beforehand, indicated, and if they have no wrapping of heavy paper with ends turned under in such a way that no moth can get in.

TEXAS AND TEXANS.

By Will H. Mayes

"Energetic, but Prudent"

President Hoover and the governors of the other States are urging that State, County and municipal governments engage in the "energetic, but prudent" pursuit of public works to assist in relieving labor and financial problems of the country. Neither labor nor financial problems are acute in Texas. Conditions that prevail in the East are largely the inevitable results of over capitalization, watered stocks and bonds, and Wall Street gambling with its consequent losses.

While the President's advice to Texas and other States is applicable at all times, if he can devise some way to curb the speculative evils that have the country in its grasp he will be the greatest public economist of the age. His proposal of energy in the use of public employment would provide temporary relief, for wages of the laborer eventually find their way to the coffers of the stock and bond holders.

Railroads Seek Extensions

Texas railroads continue to prosper. The net earnings in Texas for the year ending September 30, 1933, were $3,129,860, or 6.89 per cent of the first nine months of this year over those of the same period of last year. Freight revenues increased tremendously, and passenger revenues decreased, the passenger decrease being due largely to bus transportation and the increased use of private automobiles attributable to better roads.

Many railroads are seeking extensions, but are delayed and handicapped by the exactions and slowness of the Interstate Commerce Commission. If President Hoover wants to increase employment of labor in Texas, he should use a red hot poker on that commission and have it turn Texas railroads loose to extend their lines.

Brownwood's Labor Problem

Brownwood seems to have followed Hoover's ideas even before he announced them. The county is spending, or has arranged to spend about $500,000 in building good roads. An equal amount is to be used in building a municipal and irrigation system and putting the water where it is needed. This will supply a city of 10,000 people, and irrigate 25,000 acres of land. Two large hotels are under immediate construction. Oil and gas development continues unabated. Less cotton is being planted and more cows are being milked. Lands that have been unproductive are being used for pasturing.

Poultry Trust Fined

Turkey prices have fallen nearly 10 per cent in Texas this season and growers have been wondering why. The local produce men have not been to blame for in some cases they have even stood for losses on the turkey they have paid. The Federal agent in New York discovered a "poultry trust," 90 of the fellows indicted. The maximum penalty is a year in prison or $5,000 fine or both. The only way to stop such schemes is to give the maximum of fine and imprisonment to all immediately after those who organize take their places. Eternal vigilance is necessary to keep greed within bounds. It always recoups its financial losses at the expense of the duces.

Speaking of Poultry

This column recently referred to a building of a big creamery at Stockton as an evidence of the change from ranch to farm life in Texas. A "Steady Reader" sent in a picture of a poultry investment in this plant, with 50,000 white leghorn hens representing an outlay of $80,000, which is more than enough to start a bank. I think it is that West Texas is undergoing a metamorphosis, if you will what I mean, and also that the investment is likely to bring better returns than the same amount put in banking or the oil business.

Laredo's New Chickens

There is another one. Mr. Winch, Laredo, has 3,000 registered white horn hens on his "chicken ranch" not satisfied with that has bought a highly pedigreed Australourp and pullets to cross with white leghorns, hoping to build a breed of heavy chickens with an average from 12 to 14 points, retaining the laying qualities of white leghorns. The new breed he knows as Austro Whites.

Race Horses at Boerne

New York horseman has shipped ten thoroughbred race horses to me to spend the winter. These are large prize winners on the race tracks of America. The attention of the country is being attracted to the Texas climate as the best for the wintering of horses, and more race track events like that of last month at Arlington will result in hundreds of men coming to Texas with their fine horses.

Texas Pecan Shipments

About 450 cars of pecans will be shipped with 700 cars last season. The yield of the entire country is estimated as only 42 per cent of a normal year. Prices for native pecans ranged from 10 to 14 cents, the fancy nuts bringing at least 10 to 20 per cent higher than seasons prices. Pecan growers are the greatest need of the industry is a stabilized market. A meeting is to be held at Ben. Texas, in San Saba county, December 10, to endeavor to work out a marketing system.

Van Zandt Ribbon Cane

Van Zandt county is producing other things than oil. One farmer near Canton this fall produced 1,405 gallons of ribbon cane syrup from six acres of land, selling the syrup at $1.25 a gallon and realizing a net profit of $1,350. Besides that he culled $250 of cane for next season's planting and has sold 23 truck loads of cane stalks to neighboring towns. He irrigates his land and finds irrigation profitable even though the Van Zandt rainfall is usually heavy and fairly regular.

Showing Texas Paintings

The Texas Fine Arts Association is doing a commendable thing in exhibiting some of the best work of leading artists of Texas in such public schools as defray the expense of transporting the pictures to the schools. Not only do the school children get to see the paintings and water colors, but the exhibits attract most of the people of the towns to which they are sent. They go to see and admire the pictures and at the same time they get to know their local schools better. The 43 pictures being sent out this year are a credit to Texas and Texas artists.

East Texas Dairying

East Texas has gone ahead of other sections in the development of dairying. The smaller farms of that section are peculiarly adapted to become feeders for the large concerns. A milk products plant at Marshall, having been most successful in its operation, is planning to erect a $200,000 branch plant at Mount Pleasant. Dairy routes are being established in practically every part of the State, and the farmers are said to be pleased with the returns they are getting for their milk. The prices being paid are about $2.75 a hundred pounds, which amounts to about 22 1/2 cents a gallon.

SUNDAY SHOW TIME GAINING IN TEXAS FOR LAST YEAR

More than 48 theatres are operating this year over the number that operated on Sundays during 1932, according to a report issued Friday by the Dallas Film Board of Trade. The report is not quite complete as sections of East Texas have not been fully covered, he said. The full report is expected to add 10 or 12 towns for that part of the state. On October 1, 1933, there were 125 theatres in operation on Sunday, while now there are 175, a considerable increase, the report shows.

Merchants Are Co-operating

The pulling power of the big towns and the big shows is believed to be more fully appreciated by merchants in the smaller places and they are lending every co-operation to the exhibitor who wants to operate on Sunday, it is believed. While sound is being improved steadily in the smaller cities in a measure, it is not presented on a satisfactory scale to stop families and parties from the attraction of the big town itself. Perfect sound in the small theatre, offering the better film attractions on Sunday as well as week days, is believed the formula to keep people at home most of the time. Merchants are realizing this and are acting as go-betweens with the exhibitor and patrons, who form most of the opposition.—Motion Picture Times.

HONDO TROOP NO. 30 BOY SCOUTS SHOW UP WELL

In an inter-troop Field Meet, or Jamboree between Sabinal, Uvalde and Hondo Friday, November 29, at Sabinal, Hondo took first place in a number of events, winning first place, with Uvalde and Sabinal winning second and their with close scores.

A number of mothers of Scouts in the Hondo Troop were present with Mr. Finger and Scoutmaster Phil C. Jagge. The troop made a splendid appearance in their uniforms and with their flags. This is the first meeting of this kind, and despite the cold weather, those present enjoyed the occasion, and groups of Scouts entered each event enthusiastically.

The Knippa Troop had hardly finished their registration, and as they have only a small troop and a part of them were away, they could not come but promised plenty of action at the next meeting. Mr. Bushong, principal and coach of the Knippa school, is to be their new Scoutmaster.

Crystal City has challenged the Area in Scouting by organizing three troops, and by raising practically $1,000.00 for the Council Budget and the Camp site purchase fund. Come on, Hondo folks, let's accept this challenge and Scout with your boys.

Scout Headquarters.

Ex-Governor Ferguson's statement that he is willing to run again for the office of Governor if his friends want him to has thrown more chills into the spinal columns of a lot of politicians in Texas than they have suffered since their double-crossing accomplished the fell design three years ago of robbing Mrs. Ferguson of what was hers by every right of Democratic precedent and worthy and efficient service well performed. Could Dapper Dan be induced to enter the lists with Jim and every body else with an itch to run would stand back and see a fair fight, FARMING would welcome it with glee. But there are two too many ifs in the way of such an occurrence. As we see it, unless all past events count for nothing, Jim's entry would mean a run-off between him and Tom Love in the second primary. The fun would be worth a lot, but whether enough to justify the risk! Ah, there's the rub!

CONSTITUTION ADOPTED BY BADGERS AT MEETING OF CHARTER MEMBERS

The Baptist Badgers met last Monday night in regular weekly business session and adopted a constitution for the club. The boys drew up several rules for the team members to abide by. The team is becoming one of the most popular of local organizations and it is interesting to note the strictness of the rules and the severity of the penalties for violating the laws.

One rule, adopted from the San Antonio Sunday School League, is that any member of the team must have his parents permission to take a part in the association. This rule was applied so the boys whose parents felt their son's playing would be injurious to health; demand to much time; cause inter-church difficulties or cause them to become over-zealous for the sport would have a means of causing their son's removal from actual playing.

A summary of the constitution accepted by the teams is: The charter members of the B. Y. P. U. basketball team, known as the Badgers are as follows: Carter Snooks, Glenn Jones, Clarence Wright, Leo Pettis, Edward Taylor, Travis Taylor, B. C. Rucker, Frank Rucker, George Wilson and Jack Mask with Hy. Winarow, manager; and A. Nelson, assistant manager.

Every member of the team must have a signed permission from his parents filed with the secretary before permitted to participate in a game.

Any member of this team can be suspended by the management for the following: irregular attendance at B. Y. P. U.; unsportsmanlike conduct; failure to notify management of inability to attend practice or play; failure to attend weekly meeting and thirty minute team and skill practice every Monday night.

No suspension shall be definite or indefinite without a three-fourths vote of the charter members.

If any desire to become a member of the Badger team, they may do so by passing the three following requirements:

1st. By becoming an active member of the B. Y. P. U.

2nd. By making an application for membership which must be signed by three of the charter members before it shall be acted upon.

3rd. By vote of the charter members in regular business session. This vote shall be a secret ballot, using the black and white ball voting box. No vote shall be cast without three-fourths of the charter members being present. If three or more black balls be cast against applicant, he shall not be accepted as a member. The first vote shall be considered final. The applicant shall be informed, by letter, of the results of the vote.

BADGERS WIN OPENING GAME FROM SAN ANTONIO QUINTEITE; SCORE 25-19

"Red" Rucker, Defensive Star, Stops Most of Pal's Passing Attacks

The Hondo Baptist Badgers defeated the Pals of First Baptist Church, San Antonio, last Friday 25 to 19 in the first game of the local basketball season. The game was a thrilling match with the score close throughout. The local boys were slow getting started, but after the first quarter they took the lead and were never overtaken by the visitors.

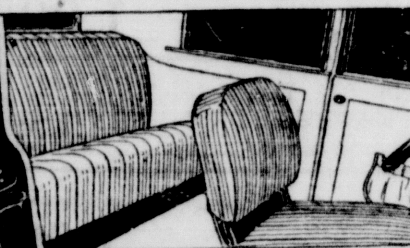

Both teams showed up well for this early in the season and were passing short and fast. The outstanding player of the game was Frank "Red" Rucker, who was the unpassable object in the pathway of the visitors. "Red" broke up more than 50 per cent of the passes of the Pals. Working with F. Rucker, the Badgers were able to put up a tight defense that in the third quarter prevented the San Antonio squad from getting a single point.

The Badgers center their offense around Jones and Snooks, while the San Antonio team was "feeding" their veteran center, Oswald Thrailkill, under the basket. Marvin and Wood of the Pals played a good game and were ever a scoring threat.

A freak of the game came when Raymond Thrailkill, guard of the San Antonio team, slapped the ball into the Badger's goal giving the Hondo team 2 points.

The line up for the game was: Badgers (25) (19) Pals Pettis Wood B. C. Rucker Marvin Wright Forwards O. Thrailkill Center J. Jones E. Taylor J. Jones F. Rucker Ross

The first games of the inter-class basketball tournament will be played at the Hondo Gymnasium Saturday morning. The opening game is set for 9 o'clock.

In the first game the 5th Grade is matched against the 6th Grade. The second contest will be between the 7th Grade and the 8th Grade. The 9th Grade meets the 10th Graders in the final game. The 11th grade drew the by and will be idle this week-end. From now on each team will play two games a week at the Hondo Gym. There is no way to determine now this league will wind up. Remember, town, let's back these teams.

INSIDE INFORMATION.

Include a "surprise" of some sort in the school lunch box. If you think back to your own school days you will remember how monotonous lunches used to be. A few nuts, raisins, dates, or figs, a special kind of cookie, or an especially choice fruit—something that can be saved until last—will be greatly appreciated. If there is time wrap the "surprise" in an interesting way.

Good quality silk is durable material, but it cannot be washed like cotton. Use only lukewarm water for silk garments, for both washing and rinsing. Make good suds of a neutral soap, and wash with as little rubbing as possible. Be careful that the silk does not come in contact with washing powders which bleach, because these powders may rot the material.

Here's an idea for a simple, inexpensive and wholesome decoration for a child's party cake. Use any preferred cake recipe, and cover the cake with white icing. Have ready gum-drops—pink, yellow and green ones. The gum-drops can be sliced thin with a sharp knife, and then cut with scissors into petal and leaf shapes to form wild roses and leaves and stems. A child's name or initials or "Happy Birthday" could be made with bits of gum-drops.

Smothered ham with sweet potatoes is just right these cool fall days. Cut a slice of smoked ham into pieces suitable for serving. Brown these lightly on both sides, and arrange them to cover the bottom of a baking dish. Spread 3 cups of raw sliced sweet potatoes over the ham. Sprinkle with 2 tablespoons sugar, and add 1 cup of hot water and 1 tablespoon of butter or ham drippings. Cover the dish. Bake slowly until the ham is tender. Baste the potatoes occasionally with the gravy. Brown the top well when the ham and potatoes are done.

A two way or pass closet in the connecting wall between the kitchen and dining-room is a great convenience. Soiled dishes are passed through the opening from the dining-room to be stacked on the drain-board or counter, level with the sink. The sink is often placed along the connecting wall, or it may be at right angles to the pass closet on an outer wall of the house so that there may be a window above it for light and air. In either case as the dishes are washed they can be put away on the shelves without any extra steps. On the dining-room side it is a good plan to have a full-length door to shut off the glimpse of the kitchen and sink through the shelves.

President Hoover's difficulties in trying to secure tariff legislation are but the inevitable consequence of trying to tinker with something that is wrong in principle to begin with. Any thing that takes from one without compensation and gives to another without exacting equal value in return is evil in principle and unjust in practice. A tariff to be "protective" must and does do just that. No amount of tinkering can make it right.

The season for tree-planting approaches. Nothing more enhances the beauty and comfort of the farmstead than thrifty, growing trees properly distributed about it. Fruit and nut trees adapted to the locality also add to the wealth of production from the farm. Plant trees.

THE ROUND UP.

Together we rode to the mouth of the canyon. There my companion went to the right, and I to the left. His shouts were soon reverberating to the echoes of my own. The startled wild life stood tense, apprehensive. And then many a nimble foot sought safety in strategic retreat, neath banks of green. Adorned and tasseled heads were erect and drinking in the tumult thru timorous ears. Then curly ringlets, of gossamer, heaved and fell, in graceful undulations, as our glistening beauties bounded, in freedom ecstatic, along the mountain sides or hurtled the boulders path to the leafy depths beneath. There to tarry not; for the sun hung low in the west; and voices of a tragic past warned each snowy head that safety lay along the heights. O'er paths labyrinthian we followed them. Now at the cliffs foot. Then o'er the summit, and across a dyke, thence along the slanting side where a flinty smooth surface held peril for footing less secure. Then away, in frantic flight, to convergence of two summits, that our wily charges might not circumvent us and bring our work to naught. Then, to the master minas, the thought emerges that at the habitation of man safety lies. Then, too, the ardor of mother love, to shield and to foster the little dependents at their sides, prompt many a doe to turn homeward.

Still ring the shouts which once meant the wolf's yelp, the eagle's scream, or the lion's roar. Homeward they bound, along the high places, for that security which man alone can give. Then, too well do they remember the crash of earthquakes, hurtling missiles gigantic toward the bottom of the vales in ages remote. They fly for the place of safety which first was theirs when the skinned furred back the destroyer before the fold yet claimed man as its own. From that distant virile time to the pulsating glorious now, full of man's power meant sweet life to them. As the kid flees to its mother, so does the mother flee to man.

And likewise, by man's deft guidance, have they exchanged coats of bristles for warm saken irridescent robes. Here life's creative force is expressing on an ever upward trend. At first, slow was the change on the slopes of Kurdistan and in the Vale of Cashmere, before the founding of Sumer. The work of many a sunlit mind receded and was lost before Jacob's experiment at the watering places of Laban. How soundly summed the mind of the Human Herd in those dark days!

Then after the ebb and flow of the tides of time o'er full many a thousand years, came Mendell and his Law. Now faster, ever faster, do we divide and rearrange the factors of heridity, until we have builded our Angoras into the most beautiful of animals. Longer stretches the white band along the descending crest till in the sunset's glow, the leaders reached the coral while the rear of the attenuated column was at our feet one mile away. A veritable rivulet of life pouring thru a landscape of green! As dusk fell we closed the gate, the round up was over.

W. J. LOCKHART,
Vance, Texas.

NOVEMBER.

This is November—and the year has turned into the sere and yellow leaf!

The time for Thanksgiving is here! We have had the spring with its seed-time and all the glorious promise of swelling bud and bursting blossom.

We have had the warmth of summer with its growth and development when nature, the wonderful alchemist, working in her mysterious laboratory, has taken the sunshine and the rain, and laboring with the elements of the soil and the air and that mysterious thing called "life," has produced wealth beyond the dreams of Avarice or the reach of a Midas' touch!

And a bounteous autumn harvest has poured this fabulous wealth into Plenty's lap to feed mankind and make glad his heart.

Let us praise in true Thanksgiving spirit the Maker and Giver of all these material blessings.

And if so be it that our share is small, let us still be thankful that our deserts are not smaller still!

"For with what measure ye mete it shall be measured to you again" was not spoken in vain!

And as your capacity for thankfulness, so shall be your capacity to enjoy that which is given you.

Hail, November!
Though poor I may be, at least you are mine!

STORING POTATOES IN PITS.

By Edgar W. Cooley,
Agricultural Extension Department
International Harvester Company.

Potatoes may be stored in pits, out of doors, successfully if the pits are provided with good drainage and ventilation and the potatoes are given such covering as will protect them from external heat and cold.

For such a pit a well-drained site, or one which can be easily drained, is the first essential. In depth the excavation may be anywhere from practically nothing to two or more feet, but it is generally best not to excavate more than six inches. The pit should be long and narrow. The size to a certain extent, must depend upon the quantity of potatoes to be stored, but too large a quantity should never be stored in one pit.

In preparing the pit a light layer of straw should be placed on the floor to keep the potatoes from coming in direct contact with the soil, and some provision should be made for ventilation to permit the evaporation of such moisture as may rise from the potatoes.

The potatoes should be piled in a ridge, in the shape of an inverted V. This will expose a greater area of the pile to the circulation of air and will shed rain much better.

Covering the Potatoes

To protect the potatoes from cold and heat, they should be covered with alternate layers of straw or hay and soil.

The first layer should be straw or hay; the second should be just sufficient soil to prevent injury to the potatoes by light or frost. This will quickly cool off the potatoes and free them from the moisture resulting from the sweating process. As the temperature lowers, more hay or straw and another layer of soil should be added.

The two layers of straw and two of soil will be sufficient protection except where the temperature drops to 20 degrees below zero, or lower, when an extra layer of each will be necessary. When pressed down, each layer of straw should be about six inches thick and the top layer of soil may be from six to eight inches deep, according to the amount of rain or snow that may be expected during the period the potatoes are to remain in storage.

Excellent ventilation may be furnished by a wooden flue. The lower end of the flue should extend nearly to the bottom of the pit and the upper end should project above the top layer of soil. The flue should have a wooden cap to keep out the rain and snow, but it should be so constructed that, during extremely cold weather it can be closed tightly.

While potatoes stored in such a pit are not readily accessible during winter, they will keep in almost perfect condition until spring, if careful attention is given to the proper construction and protection of the pit.

ROUND ROCK CHEESE WINS BLUE RIBBON AT STATE FAIR

Round Rock Cheese Co. won first premium on cheese they had on display at State Fair, Dallas, Texas, this year and have already received the blue ribbon. Round Rock Cheese Co. has been in operation since January 2, 1928, and is proving a great benefit to farmers and dairymen of Travis and Williamson Counties, Texas. The factory has over 300 milk patrons at this time. On account of poor cotton crop this year, farmers are increasing their dairy herds in this vicinity and are preparing to plant larger acreage in feed in 1930. Armour & Co., Austin, Texas, are taking entire output of cheese of Round Rock Cheese Factory.

THE MOCKING BIRD.

By Mrs. G. W. Monkhouse.

Before the first rays of dawn
Have brightened the eastern sky
He wakes us up with his bugle notes
And prepares himself to fly.

He sings on the hill top; he sings in the dell,
He sings where our loved ones are sleeping—
No funeral dirge does his merry notes sound
But an anthem of praise for his keeping.

He listens to the other birds as they warble their songs of glee
And uses the notes that suit him best
As he flits from tree to tree.

And as if to hush the cries
Of some waking babe in fright,
He sings the softest lullabies
In the stillness of night.

Now when brooding o'er your troubles
That from life's worries spring,
Just banish all unpleasant thoughts
And, like the mocking bird, sing!

NOVEMBER NESTS.

By Minnie Gould Morris, Houston.

One dread November in my home
With all my children gone,
I sat with empty aching arms
For babes to manhood grown.
When presently I heard a song
As joyous as in May,
A mocking bird on branches bare
Trilled out a roundelay,
Singing as if it still were spring
Beside an empty nest,
Singing as if her speckled eggs
Were still beneath her breast.

Why singest thou, oh, foolish bird,
With all thy nestlings flown?
I only weep in empty rooms
With all my children gone.
The bird broke out in carols sweet
As if she'd said in song,
"I sing because I had them here
Through all the summer long.
I sing of dear remembered days
When life was good to me,
Our songs in spring are songs of hope,
In autumn, memory."

The shame is in the crime, not in the punishment.—Voltaire.

If the fruiting grape vines were not pruned last fall, they should be pruned before the sap starts in early spring but not while the wood of the vines is frozen. Of the two ways of pruning grapes—the renewal and the spur system—the renewal system is better, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture, as it leaves no old wood except the trunk cane. Cut off all the previous year's growth except two or four canes for the fruiting arms. With the 2-arm method, leave on each side the best arm nearest the trunk; with the 4-arm method, leave two high and two low arms in the same way.

Ranch Facilities in the Highland Hereford
Country About Marfa

Owner J. M. Gist, Regular Exhibitor
In San Antonio International Exposition.

The above picture is of the stock pens and shows barn on the J. M.

Gist ranch at Marfa, in the Highland Hereford Country. It is hemmed in on the rear by a rugged wall of rock, one of the many attractive scenes in the Big Bend.

Gist is a Hereford breeder of widely distributed interests, having ranches at Midland and Odessa on the plains in addition to the more recently acquired range in the Davis Mountains. Sheep, horses and Herefords are shown in the pens above.

It is interesting to note the up-to-date facilities ranchmen have provided for the keep of their thoroughbreds.—San Antonio Express.

TOWN TEAM DEFEATED BY FAST YANCEY HIGH SCHOOL TIGERS 40 TO 15

The Hondo Town Team played the Yancey High School Tigers last Wednesday night and were defeated by the Yancey boys 40 to 15. The local squad showed a lack of practice and team work, but were "death" on shooting fouls making 11 of their points on free throws.

The Tigers played a fast, hard driving game, Berry taking high scoring honors with 19 points. The entire Yancey squad played neat ball. J. G. Barry was the whole show for the locals, scoring 9 of his team's points and missing only three free tosses.

The line-up was:
Hondo (15) (40) Yancey
Barry (9) (19) Berry
Snooks (1) (6) Burgin

BRIDGE TEA.

One of the prettiest autumn parties of the season was the bridge tea given by Mrs. P. Jungman at her lovely home on Tuesday afternoon.

Soft mellow lights from floor baskets filled with brilliant-toned autumn leaves made a most attractive setting, while pink Columbia roses lent a pleasing fragrance. A color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the table appointments. Tiny pink crystal baskets of mints were given as individual favors.

At the close of five games of bridge, Mrs. Ralph Noonan received a rose crystal dish for high score, Mrs. C. M. Merritt received a beautiful boudoir pillow in the cut for consolation and the guest prize of rose crystal went to Mrs. F. Bednark of San Antonio.

Those who enjoyed the hospitality were Mesdames W. H. Smith, Ralph Noonan, Fletcher Davis, Edward Cameron, L. J. Brucks, T. B. Knopp, Ed. Ney, E. J. Leinweber, Earl O'Neal, H. J. Meyer, Harry Crouch, Henry Merriman, Horace Bradley, T. B. Holloway, F. Bednark of San Antonio and Misses Bess Brucks and Mary Crouch. Tea guests were Mesdames C. M. Merritt, Vernor King and Felix Batot.

WINS FIRST PRIZE ON SPICE CAKE.

Somewhere between the writing down of the name of the winner of first prize for the best Spice Cake at the Fair and the copyist, who transcribed the records for the printer, some one made the error of ascribing the award to "Miss Ethel Biry of Biry" when it should have been Miss Ethel Bendeie of Dunay. And the Anvil Herald copied the error and would never have been the wiser had interested parties not discovered it.

We are glad to make this correction so that the right Miss Ethel gets full credit for her achievement.

RANCHMAN BUILDS BIG TANK.

R. W. Speece has just completed the erection of a concrete dam across the Seco Creek on the Woodward ranch. The dam is 500 feet long, 20 feet high and 18 feet thick at the base. Fifteen car loads of cement were used in its construction. There is a 14-foot drive way on top of the dam.

The dam will back water a distance of two miles and will insure the ranch an abundant supply of water for all future needs.

COLLECTION OF AUTO FEES BEGUN.

AUSTIN, Dec. 4.—Collection of 1930 automobile registration fees has begun in a number of counties despite the ruling of the attorney general's department that the fee cannot be collected or paid until January 1.

Tax collectors in certain of the larger counties say that the one month before licenses must be on cars, February 1, is too short a time in which to issue them. Applicants were being given personal receipts for their fees to be supplemented by issuance of registration papers after January 1.

Part of the department's ruling which has been furnished to the state highway department holds that counties can retain no part of the chauffeur or other special permit fees but can only keep their share of the general registration fees.

MRS. BARNITZ CARLE ENTERTAINS.

Mrs. Barnitz Carle entertained the members of the Forty-Two Club and a number of guests at her home on Saturday afternoon. Yellow Japanese chrysanthemums were used for the floral decorations and the guests were given Japanese tallies. Pink and yellow crystal service with corresponding colored napery was especially effective.

Mrs. Carle's guests were Mesdames Sterling Fly of Crystal City, Marvin Beal, Minke Muennink, Oreneth Fly, Earl Starnes, Roland Chaney, Ed. Cameron, Theodore Barnes, Alfred Rath, R. W. Speece, R. D. Wise of Fort Worth and Miss Willie D. Fly.

SHORT-HEINEN.

Howard Short, only son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Short, stole a march on his relatives and friends by being away to Kerrville Tuesday, November 26, and there taking unto himself a wife in the person of Miss Inez Heinen, winsome twin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Heinen of Bandera.

The young couple have the good wishes of a host of friends for a wedded life of happiness and prosperity. Mr. and Mrs. Short will make their home on the Short ranch north of town, where the groom is associated in the ranching business with his father.
